CCSS Adds Michael Collins as Quality Assurance Manager

Reflects Ongoing Commitment to Quality Throughout Customer Life-Cycle

Gillingham, Kent, UK and Raleigh, North Carolina, September 22, 2005 – CCSS Managing Director Ray Wright announces that Michael Collins has joined the firm as Quality Assurance Manager. The appointment reflects the firm's ongoing commitment to quality throughout the customer life-cycle.

"One of our core principles is 'Listen To Our Customers,' and Collins will focus on ensuring that our business and development processes continue to start with understanding each customer's requirements and end with delivering products and services in a timely and fully satisfactory manner," notes Wright.

"Our customer base is growing and their requirements are expanding. We are investing now to make sure that our customers will continue to enjoy the high level of quality they have come to expect from CCSS," adds Wright. "Quality has always been our hallmark, and we are investing now to further enhance the quality of our products and services."

Collins comes to CCSS with both software engineering expertise and quality assurance experience. He was part of the ISO 9001 and BS 5750 projects at his previous employer, Syan Limited, a British IT Outsourcing and Services firm. Collins was Automation Services Manager and Senior Consultant at Syan, where he was involved with the development of their Automated Operating System software since its inception.

About CCSS
